

Course Outcome Guide (COG)

Approved 22 MARCH 2012 Pg. 1

Course:	NURS 145 Introduction to Maternal Child Nursing	Credits:	2	Instructor:	DNP Consortium Faculty
Course Description:	This didactic course focuses on nursing care of the culturally diverse woman, infant and child. Emphasis is placed on health maintenance and selected study of diseases and disorders affecting women, infants, children, and families. Growth and development of the infant and child, and common childhood illnesses are presented. The importance of family centered care and therapeutic communication is addresses. This course will integrate teaching and learning activities that enhance involvement of clients in decision-making, self-care, health promotion and disease prevention.
Concepts and Issues	Process Skills	Assessment Tasks	Intended Outcomes
			Course	General Education or Program	Institutional
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Nursing Process Critical Thinking Culturally diversity involving women, infants and children Family centered care Therapeutic communication Teaching and learning Client involvement 	Nursing care of women, children and their families with other interdisciplinary team members. Assessment of growth and development of a fetus, infant and child. Teaching of clients that involve them in decision making and self-care. Uses ethical and legal knowledge as a guide for decision making during nursing care. Nursing care of culturally diverse women, infants and children involving health promotion, disease prevention, diseases and disorders.	Quizzes Exams Online discussion questions Class discussion ATI Maternal Newborn Nursing Exam ATI Nursing Care of Children Exam	The student will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Discuss therapeutic communication as an interdisciplinary member of the health care team interacting with women, children and their families. Develop a teaching plan for the culturally diverse childbearing client that integrates involvement in decision-making and self-care. Describe nursing care interventions for the culturally 	The graduates from the DNP will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Design the nursing process to provide nursing care in diverse settings to meet the human needs of individuals along the health-illness outcomes. Integrate various communication techniques in developing therapeutic relationships with individuals, families and members of the interdisciplinary team. Manage the legal and ethical scope of practice as an

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Growth and development of infant and children • Childhood diseases and disorders • Diseases and disorders in women 			diverse woman pediatric client and infant. 4. Explain growth and development concepts of the fetus, infant and child. 5. Describe ethical and legal issues that impact nursing care of clients across the lifespan. 6. Explain health promotion and disease prevention activities for the culturally diverse client across the lifespan.	accountable member of the health care team providing leadership and management in the delivery of quality nursing care consistent with the associate degree registered nurse. 4. Demonstrate professional behaviors as a member of the dynamic health care discipline of nursing applying concepts/lifelong learning. 5. Construct teaching-learning principles in providing individuals and families with health care information and skills related to health promotion and maintenance. 6. Integrate social, biological, behavioral and nursing sciences when providing evidence-based nursing care to diverse individuals across the lifespan.
--	--	--	--	--	--